

Let Us Help You Plan A Journey That Could Change Your Life

We've been publishing International Living for 26 years. About midway along, we had an important realization: What good to tease you with pictures and promises of a new life or a grand adventure in the places we report on...if you've no one to help you follow through to see the opportunities for yourself?

And, so, more than 12 years ago, we launched a program to begin providing that support...a program of tours, conferences, exhibits, seminars, and events that allow us to help you see firsthand what we're talking about...in the company of International Living staff and experts, as well as fellow International Living readers.

Our annual calendar includes our Live and Prosper Seminars, where we convene a group of interested readers in destinations we believe hold a particular opportunity, benefit, and appeal; Live Overseas Conferences, designed for those just starting out on the dream...who haven't quite narrowed their search down to a specific country; Global Real Estate Forums, for those interested in building a real estate portfolio; Real Estate Tours to help you find your dream home; How to Be a Travel Writer and How to Be an Importer/Exporter workshops for readers looking for ways to cover the costs of international travel and maybe make a tidy living in the process; and our Ultimate Event covering every single aspect of the offshore world.

Here's to your next life-changing adventure. We hope it's with us...

Honduras ~ Live and Prosper in Honduras ~ La Ceiba
September 25-27, 2006

You might think you know Honduras—but if all you remember is past headlines from 20 years ago, or maybe the devastation of Hurricane Mitch, then you haven't seen today's Honduras. Aside from the miles of white-sand beaches, crystal-clear turquoise waters, and fiery sunsets, Honduras' infrastructure is solid and largely rebuilt, they enjoy the largest and most well equipped sea port in Central America, and foreign aid following Hurricane Mitch has been generous and well-utilized. There is a stable democracy and ties with the U.S. remain strong.

The timing couldn't be better...in fact, we predict that time to get in 'early' is almost over. Join us this fall and learn all the ins and outs of living and investing in Honduras—banking...taxes...real estate...insurance...industries—and by the time the others show up, you'll already be well-established.
